

As Heavens Collide "Remember"

Visit "Remember" on MotoLyrics.com

I am used to these things you say
I don't care anymore what words come out
I feel inside that I still don't understand
But it doesnt matter now

You had one chance for this
But you screwed up because you're ignorant
I remember
All your lies

Let's look at this
The bright side
Let's try looking at it from another way

That something wasn't worth it
You thought it was

I still don't get the things that you said
I can't understand the anger you held
Because it's over, it's finally over for you
But I can't let this go now
I remember you filled with regret
Down on your knees with your lost ideals
