I really don't know what to feel
My confusion won't let me sleep
You say you love me at dawn
And then by sunset you're gone
Maybe if you gave a reason why
I'd be able to sleep at night
Haunted by all the memories
Of meeting you that September night
Of meeting you that September night
Of meeting you that September night

CHORUS

I wish I could take back that September night
Go back in our story and do a whole rewrite
Where Romeo & Juliet would have never met
Since we skipped ahead and went straight to the end

I wish I could take back that September night
Go back in our story and do a whole rewrite
Where Romeo & Juliet would have never met
Since we skipped ahead and went straight to the end

VERSE 2

I really don't know what to believe
When I'm too tired to even dream
Of the look you saved for me
I don't think I could ever climb over
The great wall around your life
Where you kept me on the outside
With nothing but the memories
Of meeting you that September night
Of meeting you that September night
Of meeting you that September night

CHORUS

I wish I could take back that September night
Go back in our story and do a whole rewrite
Where Romeo & Juliet would have never met
Since we skipped ahead and went straight to the end

I wish I could take back that September night
Go back in our story and do a whole rewrite

Where Romeo & Juliet would have never met
Since we skipped ahead and went straight to the end
