(Intro)

What's so important?

I need you

Is that what you get me out of bed for? I thought something was wrong!

I need you!

And all the men in Brooklynâ€¦

That was before, I can change!

Once a freak, always a freak!

(Verse)

Even though the whole school with it, I'm cool with it

If you're with it, I could introduce a new feeling

It treats you like the queen that you are

You act non-celestial when you're really a star

Nice eyes, thick thighs, I watch you when

Every time you're a different guy

They gas you up, leave feelings aside

And then hit it and tell the whole world that they did it

I don't get it! How they could treat a lady so crazy

You're so hot for them to be acting shady

I know you, innocent soul and fine figure

I'll show you why if I spend a little time with you

Bullshit, confidence and fix your posture

Don't watch other chick, they're washed up, you worth more

So when you're ready to change, I'm here waiting

You need to look in the mirror and soak in your greatness

(Hook)

Shawty, you're the bomb, but your past is strange

I'm willing to forget if you're willing to change

I said, you're the bomb, but your past is strange

I'm willing to forget if you're willing to change

(Verse)

So I heard you're dating him now, the heartless player

Why? When the right one's right here!

Say, how much abuse can your heart take?

They're trying to hit it and split, I'm trying to parley

And get to know you, show you the world like a cartographer
Head to the movies, maybe pick on some food after
On me, your man's got you paying
I don't understand why you're staying, I'm saying
How you love them and they don't love you back
Wouldn't thought you wasn't dead, by the way, they act
And discussing, I'm thinking it's a win for us
But you gotta let me know before I'm on the go,
Still searching for the one that I thought it's you
And I'm the only one, you told him that too!
That I can turn you on or am I wasting my time?
But girl, I need an answer, cause it's runnin my mind
I swear

(Hook)

Shawty, you're the bomb, but your past is strange
I'm willing to forget if you're willing to change
I said, you're the bomb, but your past is strange
I'm willing to forget if you're willing to change

(Verse)

Look, it's been a while and I'm getting tired
Been working hard for you to notice but it's feeling like
I should retire.
I tried to warn you that them dudes was foolish
And now you're on your news list, linkin your new pics
I feel sorry, but then I don't!
I told you, let me help you out, but you just won't!
You got me in a state of confusion, with all this energy
I'm losing
It was suck to know that understandings an illusion
Baby, I'm here to cure your bruising
But you're just oblivious to friendships cause I ain't of the cool ones?
If that's cool, I don't wanna know, awesome
He got a rep, treatin you right will probably cost him
Don't know what it is, maybe you think I'm like the others
Love under covers then help er to find another
Don't know a better way to tell you I'm here to stay
So these the last couple of words I'm finna say
I think you're fly and you deserve better
I'll treat you like a queen if we ever got together
I have faith in you, but for now I'm done trying They dog you when you keep going back, you must like it

(Hook)

Shawty, you're the bomb, but your past is strange
I'm willing to forget if you're willing to change

I said, you're the bomb, but your past is strange
I'm willing to forget if you're willing to change
