

AT LONG LAST "Mr. Wizard"

Hey Mr. Wizard, tell me a story, read me some lines I've been stuck in this situation a thousand times So Mr. Wizard, if you could please lend a hand to a lonely broken hearted man Whose dreams of dreamin' were coming alive Whose thoughts of hoping were left undecided
But he keeps dreamin' and hoping too
To livin' a life that belongs with you

Flashback to the opening set, the beginning scene, the one I most regret The lights go dim and as the curtains rise, the women scream while we straighten our ties And the songs of yesterday have well-passed as I hear the crowd sing "At Long Last" I said "I'll be your night as long as you can scream"
I can't help but think that I'm living the dream But that's the problem with this scenario theme, I wake up puzzled with a startling scream, it turns out that this was just all a dream, and Mr. Wizard, that's what I need

So make it come true I can't wait any longer, I thought I was stronger, my brain says I can wait, but my heart says Make it come true, as long as I keep breathing, I'll keep on leaving my heart-felt feelings for you Make it come true

Backstage with the boys in the band, those autographs move hand in hand
A speck of green glitter rises up to say that "you're making me proud son, continue to play"
There's a mic one, two: check, check, check Get ready to play for the second set, I spot a stunning girl, and she winks back So Mr. Wizard, I need this!

As my fogged-up dreams begin to fade, the final sunset has been made

Unless a final phone call can tell me otherwise, the screams will die down while we undo our ties But from my pocket I hear the slightest ding ding
I turns out that we have another chance to sing
The date is set to fight our chance with chance
