

AT LONG LAST "Your Name"

Can you ever forgive me?
I never thought it would end like this, but I guess thatâ€™s okay Youâ€™re acting awful dreamy, your touch is something that I will miss Not even a kiss

Tell me if itâ€™s you, if itâ€™s me thatâ€™s okay
I try to think of something to say

Weâ€™re flying up in the sky, flying up in a dream, do you feel my warmth, do you feel anything?
Iâ€™d try to come out clean, but thatâ€™d be too hard for you Flying up like a bird, up like a plane, just holding hands and I know it sounds insane
But in my dreams, I know nothing would feel the same
And All I have of you now is your name

So tell me what I did wrong, was it partly you? Are we too young?
Think of all the things that we did right, sleeping all day, staying up all night

We were playing cards, you decided to draw, it was 4 more hours until you would be gone, I decided to keep my game face on
But I could tell by your back through the door, we were done
