(VERSE 1)

WAKE UP!

This is the real deal not a test
Now society is calling out an SOS
Get down on the ground, put the earth to your ear
You feel that sound? That's revolution you hear

Welcome to the greatest battle of all time
We've just officially been targeted by our own kind
The time has arrived now were sounding the alarm
Man up, grab your loved ones, get everybody armed

Prime all the triggers and try to remain calm
As we gather all the weapons and prepare the bomb
Now we got it on lockdown, we're ready to go,
Get on the radio, send it out, let everybody know

The threat is getting closer, the sky is turning gray
It's right on the horizon, today is the day
It's within the city limits rolling fast like a mist
Now were caught up in the midst, this is it:
The Apocalypse

Since the very beginning of mankind
In every generation, every era in time
There has always come an instant where we must define
Who we are as a people when we must cross the line

This is that moment, now you're gonna find
Exactly what you're really made of inside
When comes right down to it what you gonna choose
To proudly hold your ground or just lie down and lose?

The brave at the frontlines, ready for war
The enemy approaching outside the door
Dust off your voice box, time to be heard
And as the gate drops
We'll be screaming these words:

(CHORUS)

This is our world, our streets, our war

Our lives â€œ This is what we fight for Our choice â€œ to make the wrong things right with Our voice â€œ We bring day to the night

This is our world, our streets, our war
Our lives â€œ This is what we fight for Our choice â€œ Weâ€™re the voice of the globe
Turn up the volume so everybody knows
This is Our World

(Ladies and gentlemen: May we please have your undivided attention as our featured guest speaker now takes the stage!)

(VERSE 2)

Camaraderie is an oddity now in this age Silence becomes violence when itâ€™s mixed with rage
Tragedies and death; they say itâ€™s all a phase
Society lying to me:
Itâ€™s on the front page

Homicides, genocides, canâ€™t run the streets
If you sagginâ€™ and you flagginâ€™ itâ€™s cold;
you keep heat
I understand your plan; be strong not weak
My gut feelinâ€™ is this killinâ€™ goinâ€™ make us obsolete

Letâ€™s defy not rely on negativity
We gotta makeover, takeover these communities
Analyze, capitalize, opportunities
Speaking of change aint strange
It all starts with me and you. So what you gonna do?
Close your eyes and just glide â€œtill your life it through?
Weâ€™ve got work to do. Weâ€™re gonna start â€œ know how?
By saying these words right here
Right Now!

(REPEAT CHORUS)

(You gonna stand by and just let somebody run your life? You gonna let somebody tell you what to do? This is your world; You make the rules, you make the difference!)

(VERSE 3)

You think one man donâ€™t make a difference, think again

â€˜Cause I just started an army picking up a pen

This begins a global collaboration
To take the whole world and make but one nation
This aint no imitation what you hearing is elite Thatâ€™s why everything stops when you hear us speak

Oh! Back to the mission at hand, weâ€™ve got a plan
Take the message that were sending and spread it across the land

Itâ€™s in black and white, itâ€™s been written, been read
Now let every single syllable settle into your head

As it slowly resonates from your mind to your feet Weâ€™ll make the earthquake from stomping this beat â€˜Cause if youâ€™re hearing this right now the battles been won

Itâ€™s spreading my friend, The Takeover Has Begun
