The systems are shutting down again,
Free entrance and exit is locking down.
The thoughts and illusions racing through my head,
Are trying to hear the sound of you.
Systems are shutting down again,
Free entrance and exit is locking down.

This is my Independence Day.
Win a battle to break away.
And no armies can stop me now.
I'm not stopping until you scream.

You were looking for a fight,
You got one coming right down tonight for you.
If, up, down,
Anyone looking for a limb never lent.
You looking for war,
You got one coming right to your front door.
Me, here, now,
Ready to settle this, the witness is the world.

This fight you spent all night trying to win,
This fight that you started, but I will end.
When this is over you can begin
Thinking about what made this end.
This fight you spent all night trying to win,
This fight that you started, but I will end.

This is my Independence Day.
Win a battle to break away.
And no armies can stop me now.
I'm not stopping until you scream.

You were looking for a fight,
You got one coming right down tonight for you.
If, up, down,
Anyone looking for a limb never lent.
You looking for war,
You got one coming right to your front door.
Me, here, now,
Ready to settle this, the witness is the world.
