I've seen the morning scatter on your pretty face, when we realized we'd let it grow just to bring it to waste, but when tears, like leaves, left the sick top of our trees, we should have known it wouldn't be long before we'd come to this.

We'll try to write it all over again tracing blind footsteps upon wet sand.

And thinking of what it has been
I'll tell goodbye words to the wind
I know you can hear them and with a smile you'll remember me.
I see you leaving in backlight
but I just can't be too sad, all I want is for you to jump into the sun so don't turn back and run.

Let hope lead your way and may you have no regrets deep down there's nothing you lost for good.
You'll find me in another face, another rising sun, that will wipe your tears and warm your hands, that will run with you.

We'll try to write it all over again
tracing blind footsteps upon wet sand.

And thinking of what it has been
I'll tell goodbye words to the wind
I know you can hear them
and with a smile you'll remember me.
I see you leaving in backlight
but I just can't be too sad,
all I want is for you to jump into the sun
so don't turn back and run.

I know it's hard to choose to leave but cryin' feels so wrong, we still got ways to go when we don't know what tomorrow might bring so be strong and apart won't mean alone

Then look for me within the whispers of the wind and the haze will leave your eyes and you will see

And thinking of what it has been
I'll tell goodbye words to the wind
I know you can hear them
and with a smile you'll remember me.
I see you leaving in backlight
but I just can't be too sad,
all I want is for you to jump into the sun
so don't turn back and run.
