Round and round and round we go
Locked inside this crazy show you know it
You play the game to win and lose
You don't know which way you should choose and
show it

Wasting your time
So hard to find

And now you find you've lost control
You try to make your rebel yell and blow it
The time has come to stand and fight
To flick the switch turn on the light expose it

Wasting my time
So hard to find

You try it time and time again
A message that you just can't send is waiting
You don't know when to come or go
To start or stop or just let go don't show it

(Instrumental)

Round and round and round we go
Locked inside this crazy show you know it
You play the game to win and lose
show it

Wasting your time
So hard to find
Should've known better
Never knowin' the truth
Who oh oh oh etc.
