As a wolf in an outlawed land when the winter closing in I'll run with danger for my life
I don't want to die for a longing that hurts
But it's too late to stay when I came this far

So I'll follow the way I chose and leave no traces
For the blood where I went isn't mine
I didn't have a chance
You're scared of who I am
And it's too late to live the life we lived

Haven't you lived my life, you don't know anything
See me just standing there and wish for no more
Haven't you lived my life, you don't know anything
Take my desire here and now, but don't wish for more

The sky is calling us tonight, what do you want with your life
If you steal mine, you'll do as you want
I'm hungry and I'm prepared
And if the sky will be your grave it's open to take you in
If you want.

Haven't you lived my life, you don't know anything
See me just standing there and wish for no more
Haven't you lived my life, you don't know anything
Take my desire here and now, but don't wish for more

The sky calls for us tonight and the earth demands it's When they burns what we turned has burned out
It was you and me who burned before the love disappeared
And it's too late to live the life we lived.

Haven't you lived my life, you don't know anything
See me just standing there and wish for no more
Haven't you lived my life, you don't know anything
Take my desire here and now, but don't wish for more
