God I wish
That it would be forever
What I have with you
But I promise you
When everything ends
The last thing you see - is me
And the last you hear - is me

Can you see the ice
Starting to melt by the beach
Soon the bay is free
Once we sat there
When the sun was red
The last thing on fire was us
The last thing who was, was us

You're my life
And if we only have a few hours left
Live with me then
It's never too late
Even though one must leave
There's something more
In the new who awaits you
And the last thing you see - is me

Run out now
On your flowered meadows
And when the night
Turns of the light tonight
The last thin you see - is me
And the last one you hear - is me

Time gathers us
As rain in a sea
It won't forget you
Are you scared
Of the shimmering grave
The last thing you see is me
The last thing you hear is me

You're my life
And if we only have a few hours left

Live with me then
It's never too late
Even though one must leave
There's something more
In the new who awaits you
And the last thing you see - is me

You're my life
And if we only have a few hours left
Live with me then
It's never too late
There's something more
And the last thing you see - is me
