Light the candle, please don't speak
Open the window, let some air in
I'm on the run, from the news on the TV
No lessons learned, all over the centuries
Over and over
Over and over
Over and over again
I pour a drink, I need one
I fall asleep and dream
Pretty little girl in a purple dress
With giggle healing eyes
Painting a picture of the world
Purple-pink, with a big broad smile
I said, "pretty little girl in a purple dress
Where'd you get them giggle healing eyes?"
She said "the big painter in the sky
Who paints all our eyes"
All our eyes
All our eyes
All our eyes, all our eyes
All our eyes
All our eyes
All our eyes, all our eyes
