As she sat I stared intently in her eyes,
Her scrawny little figure hung over the edge.
All the boys on her mind, the sun the sky the sea
And sheâ€™d wonder will he still remember me.

He looked for no surprises but surprises look for him
She searched for him but still all she could find his voice is paper thin
The two discovered love discovered life with separate places separate hearts
And all thatâ€™s left is empty spaces empty chairs and empty thoughts

As he sat I stared intently in his eyes
His bony bullied figure hung over the edge
All the boys on his mind, the sun the sky the sea
And heâ€™d wonder will he still remember me.

He looked for no surprises but surprises look for him
She searched for him but still all she could find his
voice is paper thin
They discovered love discovered life with separate
places separate hearts
empty thoughts

But I donâ€™t mind youâ€™ll have to leave me here Remember when I found you

He looked for no surprises but surprises look for him
She searched for him but still all she could find his
voice is paper thin
The two discovered love discovered life with separate
places separate hearts
And all thatâ€™s left is empty spaces empty chairs and
empty thoughts
