I light a candle for those i have lost
I never tought it will happen so fast

Sound of your laugh is still in my mind
Pitcture of you will never fade out
It will be here - deep in my heart

When i hear your name
It all comes back
Things of the past
Slips in my mind

I light a candle for those i have lost
I never tought it will happen so fast
Sometimes its hard
But that is my task

When i hear your name
It all comes back
Things of the past
Slips in my mind

So I reach for a bottle
And drink it till the botoom
One or few more its not a problem

But maybe I have problems
With candles and bottles?
Or its price
To sleep in complete silance

I light a candle for good friends I have lost
I light a candle for family I have lost
Time that we shared wasn't enough

We'll meet again, that is for sure
Sooner or later? Thats a good question
I light a candle for those i have lost

I took off my mask
That covered my eyes
Now you can see

Whats going inside

I fill up my empty glass
And look in the sky
Cheers to everyone
Hope you all are fine

I light a candle for good friends I have lost
I light a candle for family I have lost
I light a candle for good friends I have lost
I light a candle for family I have lost
I light a candle for good friends I have lost
I light a candle for family I have lost
I light a candle for good friends I have lost
I light a candle for family I have lost
