

Brent Sutton

"Forever"

Visit "Forever" on MotoLyrics.com

I never thought I'd find a place for my tired heart to rest
Twisted roads to short-lived homes and that's to say it at it's best
Nights of cold and all alone, Haunted by my own regret Praying for the sun when you will come, though I haven't met you yet

One last time on this last night
I don't wanna' die alone here (yeah)

Tonight I am falling
Take this heart that's been set free
If I've died and gone to Heaven, then it's everything I hoped it would be (yeah)
A promise kept, a lost life left to my ghosts long gone
If you had a word to hold me to... forever.

The sand grains fall, non-stop to all Slipping through the mortal glass
Time is no kiss and we can't reason with all the chances that come and pass
The pages turn, the words still burn into my heart, but still feel new
The stars shine bright and will be my light until I find my way home to you

One last time on this last night
I don't wanna' die alone here (yeah)

Tonight I am falling
Take this heart that's been set free
If I've died and gone to Heaven, then it's everything I
hoped it would be (yeah)
A promise kept, a lost life left to my ghosts long gone
If you had a word to hold me to... forever.

Visit Brent Sutton page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.