Hey! Our time of judgement has begun
Prophets tell our selfish ways are done
Hey! From the sky the trumpets sound
Hold tight my hand tonight
Hey! Rains of fire, stars collide
Troops from under stand and now will rise
Hey! Silenced forever the winds of time
Time ran up a little too soon

And I see the life flash before their very eyes
Sons forsaken, daughters taken, motheres weeping
Just close your eyes and shut them tight tonight
This is the End... my God, save us!

Take a look inside the lies in which your mind confides
Was I wrong before?
Will you stand and fight for one last chance to make things right?
This will set the score for man's final war

Hey! Sun goes black, the moon turns red
Look to the west, witness the walking dead
Hey! We had our chance in eras gone
Our foolish pasts return
Hey! Look up above the Four now ride
Mothers in tears, all fears, no place to hide
Hey! Bow your head, pray for more time
Mercy save us all
Hey!

And I see the life flash before their very eyes
Sons forsaken, daughters taken, motheres weeping
Just close your eyes and shut them tight tonight
This is the End... my God, save us!

Take a look inside the lies in which your mind confides
Was I wrong before?
Will you stand and fight for one last chance to make things right?
This will set the score for man's final war

Will you remember?

Are we not alone this time?
I do surrender
Take me inside tonight...to the other side

Take a look inside the lies in which your mind confides
Was I wrong before?
Will you stand and fight for one last chance to make things right?
This will set the score for man's final war
