I try to fight this feeling as I'm kneeling on the ground
Always thought you'd be my lady and it's driving me crazy
Now that you're gone
When you left with all of your possessions
You took the passion you left me high and dry
Now I'm lying here I'm so defenseless
Cause you built fences
And you didn't say goodbye

Now the days are moving so slow
Cause I'm flying so low way up in the sky
But I thought I'd always see you
And I wanted to feel you just one more time
When the silence fed no conversations
You know I lost my patience then I lost my mind
Then your heart started changing like the seasons
I guess you got your reasons
But you didn't say goodbye

The days are moving so slow
Cause I'm flying solo way up in the sky
I thought I'd always see you
I wanted to feel you Oh just one more time
When the silence fed no conversations
You know I lost my patience then I lost my mind
Then your heart started changing like the seasons
Oh you got your reasons
