Once I was in love with someone that wasn't the right one Looking back I find out that I didn't know what I wanted

I was so much in love but blind at the same time
It took me so long to understand

Why did it have to end this way
How can I find that love that will always stay

I spent all my time looking after peace
But I guess it wasn't good enough to fall on my knees

I knew that something was hurting you But like you said there wasn't much that I could do

Why did it have to end this way
How can I find that love that will always stay

that wasn't the right one
Looking back I find out that
I didn't know what I wanted
