Is there a place in your heart?
For someone like me, someone you barely know
I've got so much to learn, that I know
I'm not perfect but I want to make you feel

Something pure, something sweet
Something real, something deep
All I want is just a try
To show you what's inside of me

I've been waiting so long
To get to know you a little more
I know I'm stressed out but it'll pass
Once you know me you will feel

Something pure, something sweet
Something real, something deep
All I want is just a try
To show you what's inside of me

The more I read you the more I know
That you could be the one I was waiting for
I hope it'll work out this time
Cause when I'm with you I just feel

Something pure, something sweet
Something real, something deep
All I want is just a try
To show you what's inside of you
