Oh, oh, woah-oh, woah-oh x2

The days they come and go
And your heart it turned to stone
You could leave me on my own when I still need you
You could hang me out to dry
And drown me in my lies
The ones I'll know that I just should've told you

And I should let it go, she is gone and
All I got is a song, I'll
Sing it loud while you're pushing me away
And it's 12 degrees and I'm waiting outside
I won't sleep til the end of time, and I, I can't take it anymore
So I'll pour my heart out like the rain
I won't stop til you feel my pain
Decide does your heart beat anymore, yeah
Does your heart beat anymore, yeah

When the nights you're spending
All alone up in your room
With no one there to get you through
It just gets harder
And when you close your blinds
I'm out of sight and out of mind
I think about all of your time that I was wasting

So I let it go, she is gone and
All I got is a song, I'll
Sing it loud while you're pushing me away
And it's 12 degrees and I'm waiting outside
I won't sleep til the end of time, and I, I can't take it anymore
So I'll pour my heart out like the rain
I won't stop til you feel my pain
Decide does your heart beat anymore, yeah
Does your heart beat anymore, yeah

So I let it go, she is gone and
All I got is a song, I'll
Sing it loud while you're pushing me away

And it's 12 degrees and I'm waiting outside
I won't sleep til the end of time, and I, I can't take it anymore
So I'll pour my heart out like the rain
I won't stop til you feel my pain
Decide does your heart beat anymore, yeah
Does your heart beat anymore, yeah
Does your heart beat anymore, yeah
