"The father, the son, the holy ghost Which MC do you like the most WHy pick one when you could choose from three That's why they call it the tri-ni-ty

Brighter than the moon and the sun and the stars We be riding around in the subway cars With the medicine man and the far away places The lights have gone blurry and i see the traces dreams of dreams of chances missed topaz, turquoise, amethyst the night is black and i got shit to do i let out my breath on flatbush avenue some people say it once, we're gonna say it thrice we're not the sons of brady or the three blind mice and the mist a mist and fiercest frost a most the most and the upheaval all our hope cannot be lost ya'll i'm dr. prynn i fight for good not evil

a-k-a n-s-p t-b-a Tri-ni-ty
you knew it was on the way
i said you knew it was on the way the trinity, the trinity, the trinity canal to dekalb and back again the stars up high but i can see them and the base beneath be creepin' and the night light sleepin' as the waves of doubt all around me deepen so you be whistlin' and lookin' right through my eyes gonna run through the night and remove my disguise

Yo realize exactly who i am i'm gonna exercise the demons in my head until i'm perfectly sane, i don't need no psychiatrist runnin' around town like i'm the arch diasis happen all courage and loosin' all fear i can thrill you in manilla from here to zaire a dark shadow of a tree against the winter sky you know my hands are too cold, my throat is too dry i be building in all up in my mind and then the things that i lost i am beginning to find sound settles heavy in humidity through up our names like SEC yo 1-2-3, 3-2-1 i do, i did, i'm done

Throw your hands in the air if you're a true believer
fall to the floor if you're feelin it
Beware of things in triplicate i'll be dressed all in black just like johnny cash three part harmony like crossy stills a nash in the dark people know what they're afraid to say and i've seen all good people turn their heads each day

i'm the superhero from mysterious movie the world is upside down but i am feeling groovy betwixt and between i am fierce and unclean sometimes we say things that we just don't mean i'll be like wendel berry, how i know the dark it's just me and the moon in the forest park you see i got dark feet and i got dark wings and i know that tomorrow is what the nighttime brings
