I make one million dollars every day of the week
And I make one million volts of electricity
And I fly one million miles per the hour through the sky
With one million soldiers who canâ€™t wait to die

I take one million women for my blushing brides
And I take one million virgins and make concubines
And I have one million children that spawn from my seed
Every branch is broke on my family tree

I am one in a million
I am one in a million
I am one in a million (I am one in a million)
I am one in a million Iâ€™ll be your man

I am one in a million
I am one in a million
I am one in a million
Man I am

One million monkeys sit on my back
One million ghosts of my christmas past
One million sins I need to confess
One million years of emptiness

I am one in a million
I am one in a million
I am one in a million (I am one in a million)
I am one in a million Iâ€™ll be your man

I am one in a million
I am one in a million
I am one in a million
Man I am
