Remember green-hazel eyes and beautiful smiles that run for miles and I can't sleep tonight my lost luck runs thin inside you filled me up when I first met you hold me up I'm dying to let you hold me up now hold me up and save me from myself I'm sorry about the constant stares so here's my heart and take care its all I have to give up, give up sweet heart and run away with me can't you see you touched me given me everything that I need so hold on please hold on to me while we dream and we dream and we dream.
