Visit "Dying Slowly" on MotoLyrics.com

I feel like I'm drowning myself in you and I want to breathe until my lungs fail so I sit underneath the heavens staring at the scar on my face you know it hurts when you're not around and I think its sad to say but I miss you and I've traded myself in for you in for dying slowly so I say watch and it will be ok, the fall will tell of another year that I failed myself again to a queen of hearts lets take a ride tear in through the dark next to fireflies and over sleepy eyes to a place that doesnt want a part me, part of you.
