There's something about a morning without the picture perfect
Ribbons in her hair
It's raining
She knows that she wants to let me in

Cause my dear I can't breathe out here
It's cold so tell me why
I break in pieces for hopeless reasons
Stereo therapy heals my lesions

Do you know what it's like to hurt at night for oh no reason?
Do you know what it's like?

So forget the feelings so few have
She says I love you to death
And forget the feelings so few have Forget our future we don't have Four-flush and forget I make you feel like a harlot, does he know I'm here?

So please dear untie me before we drive that awful extra mile
And at night I dream about that smile
And the jealousy that's gleaming on our teeth There's something about a morning without that perfect picture...

Do you know what it's like to hurt at night for oh no
reason?
Do you know what it's like...?

So forget the feelings so few have
She says I love you to death
And forget the feelings so few have Fuck you and the future we don't have

So forget the feelings so few have
She says I love you to death
And for get the feelings so few have
