[HOOK]

Some women laugh
Some women cry
Some women love
& some women lie
They unpredictable (Hey)
We could never know (yeah)
So unpredictable (Hey)
Either love or let go

[VERSE #1]

Every day remembering, how I gave her everything How she never noticed & her focus was already on another me
On another he, a man with finer things
A man with diamond rings, who came to claim a queen
I was insane to think she would be any different
But I put her in a class of her own when we were kissin
She had me wrapped around her finger I was trippin
But never again will I find myself in the same position
It was prison - physically I was switching up my lifestyle
Setting aside priorities for a nice smile Donâ€™t ask me why or how causeâ€™ I donâ€™t
even understand it
I couldnâ€™t win everything I did was taken for granted
Would skip the gym for her got skinny & couldnâ€™t stand it
Her man was worthless, withering into the planet
She was an iceberg, my heart - Titanic
& so I sank in her Atlantic, now I know

[HOOK]

Some women laugh
Some women cry
Some women love
& some women lie
They unpredictable (Hey)
We could never know
So unpredictable (Hey)
Either love or let go

[VERSE #2]

I tried to capture love like it was a fugitive Running from my grip as if to show me what a nuisance is & while ya heart was hiding from me with elusiveness
You were opening it to a man without a use for it
This time I'll give out what I think of you for free In hopes that you will change your ways & continue to stay with me
BUT! if you leave I won't be losing any sleep
I feel the need to let you know how this relationship could be
So if you wanna test me I'll just leave you hanging there
Like my black jacket on the back of my reclining chair
I swear, I don't know what ya thinkin Feelings for you are shrinkin, don't argue just let it sink in
I'll be gone in-between you blinkin Causin' you to pour another shot of what your drinkin
& when your weak in the knees & begin sinkin
I will be out enjoying the rest of my damn weekend

[HOOK]

Some women laugh
Some women cry
Some women love
& some women lie
They unpredictable (Hey)
We could never know
So unpredictable (Hey)
Either love or let go

[VERSE #3]

What kind of synapse is happening in a woman's mind
To make her think its accepted to link up with 40 guys
Then turn around expecting her to be the only one
But when we are the lonely one she fails to find the

place & time
(w-w-wait hold up, bring that back)
What kind of synapse is happening in a woman's
mind
To make her think its accepted to link up with 40 guys
Then turn around expecting her to be the only one
But when we are the lonely one she fails to find the
place & time
Wont vocalize emotion like she strives to be a mime & silence is a sign to me, reading "Don't even try"
I hate the feeling when she is preoccupied & tries to deny another mans involvement in her lies
Like 95 percent of women that I meet say I Intimidate 'em when the only word I said was hi
Its just a way to hide behind the fact their curious
As to why my facial expression is always serious Girls are delirious but there's no way I'm furious
About the fact they lie & cheat but think they are imperious
Of course its not only them & men do the same at times
but we will white lie women "lie" in bed with guys
"Lie" in bed with guys, women "lie" in bed with guys
Haha yeah, so unpredictable
