"The Cause Of This"

If life wont change before my eyes
Then I'll be falling in line just to be with you, Cause there's a lie on your chest
That says you wont be coming back.
Why so careless with your time?
You escape by chasing status in your room
With a lie on your chest that says you wont be coming back.

What is kind? cause I've gotta be kind to be close to you,
Yeah now we see that every single day, Described in facts from every word you,
With a light on we can see right past the curtains to your view
Where you lie on your chest and dream your lies are fooling.

What's the crime, the charges, the blame is yours,
What's the problem, this is the place to pray, What's it for, ignored, this life is yours, you lived your life this way,
What's the plea, you cheat, deceit, decide, you lied right to my eyes
Your hard facade, you can't explain the cause of this
