i should have known how this would end you've stopped being my friend some things aren't worth mending some messages aren't worth unsending the way you walked past the door oblivious to me writhing on the floor from the pain that you inflicted & all the pills that the doctor prescribed they don't work anymore it's not the point that i'm mad you fucked me up pretty bad but now it's all too late you can forward my mail to the state i joined the foreign legion
