I walk through silent streets and now
I can't find my way
Lost in the labyrinth of my mind
And I'm tongue-tied, and I can't find
The words that define the way I feel
My heart, my fire, my love, my desire for you

Now it's you that knows the way
I found the words to say
I want them all to know
It's you

Won't you be my alibi
Always right by my side, every night
My love, my alibi

Now this is significance, it's not coincidence
That brings us here
Could it be the hands of dice
Or is it a roll of fate

Now this is true, just me and you
This secret I must tell you
