From out of the past you still know who I am
I'm the same child trapped in this mask of a man
My music has not let me down
I'm still holding on
We can't be together, no not in this world
You are married, I'm with the same girl
Take our memories of children discovering pearls
And never let go
They say "There's no such place as far away"
But it won't be the same after today
But if I could with upon a star
I'd give anything to be your guitar
You would hold me and share all your dreams
When you touched me, I'd sing like the streams
Full of joy and pain that flow from your soul
When you played me, you'd never let go
Christina, Nobody knows me like you
It's too bad a wish can't come true
Still I'll name my guitar after you
Hold me, Touch me
Full of joy and pain that flow from your soul
When we're dancing and never let go
Christina, Nobody knows me like you
In a way sometimes wishes come true
I've named my guitar after you
