I know this world is killing you
Please understand it hurts me too
Both trying to give. Both reaching for help.
Darling who's gonna save who?
I'm not comparing my pain
I'd never play such a game
And I'm not pointing my finger at you
No, I'm not pointing my finger at you
So many times we get in over our heads
And the heart and the mind become tangled threads
And all the best intentions just circle down the drain
I know this world is killing you
Please understand it burns me too
Both trying to give. Both reaching for help.
Help me tear down these walls
Let's call a truce
'Cause if it's you I'd explain
Darling when I complain
I'm not pointing my finger at you
No, I'm not pointing my finger at you
I'm on your side
