Breaking through the dead of night
There's a place, we've got to find it
Nothing will stop us on our way

Watch your back at every moment
They will take you down and control
Lurking through the fog to find a way

Descend on early morning
Now burning bright
A sudden turn to nightmares
Squeezing the empty moment
Now out of sight
With innocence we take flight

They do their best to tease you
They'll never try to please you
Be careful of what you do now

Search and find, deprived of your will
Not confined the matters fulfill
Make a strike and be the first to kill

Descend on early morning
Now burning bright
A sudden turn to nightmares
Squeezing the empty moment
Now out of sight
With innocence we take flight

Rock the waves and shake their brains
Let's burn it to the ground
Take the place and re-disgrace
And show 'em what we found

Turn the crowd and take their pride
This is our own home now
Take the reins and touch the chains
Forever they are bound

Take the stage and steal the rage
When hell is all around

Break the rage rite in the faces
Never turn around

Soon there'll be nowhere to hide
We occupy inside
Break the waves and ride the plains
Forever we are now, one more way

On her wings she tried to flee
But they don't want to fly
She's trapped in time

On her knees she can't believe
What's going on inside
She's lost her mind

Never thought I'd go this way
But always did the crime
We crossed the line

Never saw the hidden scripture written in the lies
No last goodbye
