Facing the fire to find the wish
In which you lack
Trapped in desire for more
Move in for the attack
Push on to distant shores
'cause there's no turning back
Can't turn around and now
You're running from the track

The way that you go will seal your fate
It's getting too late

Flirt with desire, you face the fire
It's been too long for you
Never retire, you walk the wire

Losing the dream you're bound to scream
But there's no sound
Now that you're lost
You wonder if you will be found
If there's a way then it's too hard to see today
You've lost the fire, but you can never turn away

Now that you're gone, never move on
Whatever went wrong

Flirt with desire, you face the fire
It's been too long for you
Never retire, you walk the wire
You touch the flame, you play the game
It won't be long at all
Until you're frozen in the fire

Must regain some ground
Must be free somehow
There's no return found
No escape, you're bound

It's been a long time coming
No one's holding back
You see it coming but you can't escape the tracks

Wherever you are, you can't escape
Now it's too late bitch!

Flirt with desire, you face the fire
It's been too long for you
Never retire, you walk the wire
You touch the flame, you play the game
It won't be long at all
Until you're frozen in the fire
