"Young And Hungry"

A youthful struggle has come to be
The time is now for all to see
So make your fortune come true
And go fulfill your need

You've had this dream all of your life
The time is now to end your strife
Head down the path you choose
The time has come

We are calling out
We're shouting out
Will we be heard
We are young and hungry

An ultimatum has come to be
What was envisioned now perceived
Nothing was laid out for you
So carry on your way

Someone suggests the way to you
You got your own, you'll see it through
And as you rise from below
Resilience starts to cure

Out on your own there is no time to lose
- Make your move
Out in the night your hunger grows profuse

We are calling out
We're shouting out
Will we be heard
We are young and hungry

I had a dream all of my life
It ended now I lost the fight
Nothing will ever come true
We're out of time

We are calling out
We're shouting out
Will we be heard

We are young

We are calling out
We're shouting out
Will we be heard
We are young and hungry
