I don't understand you
There's no motivation
The world could be ending before you start the day
Stop there, I've heard these excuses before

Your dream
Lacks passion

When these eyes
Are opened they're windows
To look out into life
When they're closed
They're mirrors
That reflect what's inside

There is no denying
You're not even trying
So don't lie, don't lie
Here's where you sign
On the dotted line
Coward

A change might be healthy
Despite the complications
It's overwhelming, don't choke on the medication
Swallow it down, there is no excuse anymore

Your dream
Lacks passion

When these eyes
Are opened they're windows
To look out into life
When they're closed
They're mirrors
That reflect what's inside

There is no denying
You're not even trying
So don't lie, don't lie
Here's where you sign

On the dotted line
Coward

You're selfish, distorted, infectious
You waste of space open your eyes
You're morbid, your failures are all for nothing if you don't Try

When these eyes
Are opened they're windows
To look out into life
When they're closed
They're mirrors
That reflect what's inside

There is no denying
Coward

Believe it, to see it
Believe
You
You fucking coward
