Its funny how some things stay on your mind
Its funny how some moments hang in time
I remember when we meet
How we became good friends
But I don't remember when
When you started to go astray and for what reason
That you finally went away why did you leave me
If it were anyone else I could cut all my ties
But you're apart of my life and it startin' to feel like

Everywhere I go I hear your name
And I play it off like things are the same
Pretending to know the reason why that its not

What happened baby
What happened honey
To the way thangs use to be ( 2X)

Everyday I just try to block it out my head
I haven't seen you and I just don't know what I said
We used to spend time we used to be fine
You had my heart now we don't even talk like we use to Baby this is not what I'm use to Tell me where did it go id do anything to know
That it was not all in vain and there is a reason that you went away

Everywhere I go I hear your name
And I play it off like things are the same
Pretending to know the reason why that its not

What happened baby
What happened honey
To the way thangs use to be ( 2X)

See I tried over and over again to get some understanding
So I can know where were standing
