Heâ€™s drifting in the Sea when a screaming
symphony tells him that heâ€™s drowning.
All the lights fade away
And the last thing he heard her say: goodbye, I love
you, and good luck!
The darkness of the Sea surrounds him as he sinks.
The light shines through the water, and slowly fades away.
The love of his life has lost him this day.
Goodbye, I love you, and good luck! Good luck, my love.
Drowning, surrounded and entwined by the Sea.
Heâ€™s drowning.
Goodbye, I love you, and good luck!
Good luck, my love.
