Close to you

Charles Jenkins & Fellowship Mass Choir

You can take away, everything that I own
You are all that I need, I will never be alone
You are the joy that floods my soul; you are the source
that makes me whole
Thereâ€™s no place I rather be then close to you

You can take away, everything that I own
You are all that I need, I will never be alone
You are the joy that floods my soul; you are the source
that makes me whole
Thereâ€™s no place I rather be then close to you

I want to be, close to you
I want to be just were you are
In that secret place
Where I can see you face to face
Thereâ€™s no place I rather be than close to you

You can take away, everything that I own
You are all that I need, I will never be alone
You are the joy that floods my soul; you are the source
that makes me whole
Thereâ€™s no place I rather be than close to you

I want to be, close to you
I want to be just where you are
In that secret place where I can see you face to face Thereâ€™s no place I rather be than close to the

I want to be, close to you
I want to be, close to you
I want to be, close to you
I want to be, close to you
I want to be, close to you
Please let me be, close to you
I want to be, close to you
I want to be, close to you
I want to be just where you are

In that secret place, where I can see you face to face
In that secret place, where I can see you face to face
In that secret place, where I can see you face to face
Thereâ€™s no place I rather be than close to you
Thereâ€™s no place I rather be than close to you
Thereâ€™s no place I rather be than close to you.
