I could be under your bed

Or outside your window

Youâ€™ll never know

No youâ€™ll never know

That Iâ€™m watching you, waiting patiently

To see what will become of me one day

Just know you are never alone Iâ€™m always there in the dark, in the silence

Iâ€™m gonna be there, gonna be there

So close I can feel you breathing

Like a virus never gonna fight this

Standing so close I can feel our likeness Donâ€™t you know all I wanna do is take you to the stars

How would you be my friend would you give me everything even if I was from another planet

Would you let me save you from these things that haunt you at night

I just want to take you far away to another planet

When all we have has come and gone

Weâ€™re not getting any younger

We can both go back to the days

That we never thought that we would ever get here

Every wish would be said and done

I'm not sure they'll stay the one

My heart won't skip a beat I'm not going to lose I love this feeling

Start a new chapter turn a new page

Cause we're never gonna be the same

Like cosmic rays in outerspace let's blast away

And never look back

How would you be my friend

would you give me everything even if I was from
another planet

Would you let me save you from these things that
haunt you at night

I just want to take you far away to another planet

How would you be my friend

would you give me everything even if I was from
another planet

Would you let me save you from these things that
haunt you at night

I just want to take you far away to another planet
