Before you leave please believe I need you more than ever

Before you go you should know I need you more than ever

ever

Before you go you should know

This is an uphill battle (this is an uphill battle)
Fighting for my survival (and where were you)
You know I'm running out of time
You're all that's running through my mind
My heart is beating faster
My breath is growing slow
You know I'm running out of time
Yet you're not by my side
I need you more than ever
I can not lose this life on my own

The dark is growing darker
But the light is brighter than before
I pray there's something beautiful
Hiding just beyond that door

Before you leave please believe I need you more than Before you go you should know (you should know)

This is an uphill battle (this is an uphill battle)
Fighting for my survival
You know I'm running out of time
You're all that's running through my mind
My heart is beating faster
My breath is growing slow
You know I'm running out of time
Yet you're not by my side
I need you more than ever
I can not lose this life on my own

Where are you now
Where are you now

My heart is beating faster

My breath is growing slow
But you are not by my side (not by my side)
My heart is beating faster
My breath is growing slow
And you are not by my side

This is an uphill battle (this is an uphill battle)
Fighting for my survival (and where were you)
You know im running out of time
You're all thats running through my mind
My heart is beating faster
My breath is growing slow
You know I'm running out of time
Yet your're not by my side
I need you more than ever
I can not lose this life on my own

Before you leave please believe i need you more than
ever
Before you go you should know
