All i know, is I don't want to feel like this anymore
I need to let you go.
Was the night, enough to keep your from someone else?
It's time to let you go.
As I watch our lives unfold, it's like i'm in reverse.
I wanna go back , to the place that

So we can take everything that's broken
make the pain disappear.
I wanna hold you for the first time
as we battle through the tears.
If we went back, to the place, where we began
Would we have the chance to save us?

Just so you know
I'd give you everything, my heart , my soul.
No one could love you more.
But i know that you, take the good
and you make it bad.
If were gonna crash, let's burn

As I watch our lives unfold, it's like i'm in reverse.
I wanna go back, to the place that
So we can take everything thats broken.
Make the pain disappear.
I wanna hold you for the first time, as we battle through the tears.
If we went back to the place where we began,
would we have the chance to save us?

We keep watching the clocks, and see the minutes turn to days
And keep chasing, the shadows, until the sunlight
fades away.
And we try, and we try to make some sense of this cliché
But it gets harder every day.

So we can take everything thats broken
Make the pain disappear
I wanna hold you for the first time,

as we battle through the tears.
If we went back to the place , where we began
Would we have the chance to save us?
