We can't win. They're everywhere. Gotta fight back.
Not on my watch, not while I'm here
I'll hold on to this while I still care
Turn away from the lies, embrace the anger
And use it as momentum to break out faster
As far as I'm concerned, this is as far as it goes
Tired. Neglectful. Here I am, here I hate, here I go
Say goodbye to the wasted time spent on other lives
That are a part of mine
It makes no sense - I wish I could stop
I've tried before - The web has me caught
Twisted minds will try to keep me off track Shifty eyes keep watch over me and await the time for attack
Only to become what I've hated all along
What I've fought all this time
I've made my bed and it's where I lie
But I'll be damned if I'm to live this fuckin' life
Your mirror shows you've changed
Look close - that's who you are
Your mirror shows you've changed
Look close - You can see your pain
I won't be a prisoner
Release myself from life's chains
What I lose in this endless fight
Somewhere else I will gain
