You can say she's just a little girl
Tongue tied in a bad smile
You can say that her scars are too dark
But Helen saw a million stars tonight
Helen saw a million stars
Helen saw a million star tonight
There ain't no fore
There ain't no race
There ain't no cloud she ever can't blow away
You still can say her scars won't die anyway oh
Though I'm miles and miles away from her own window
And some people often tell you that you're blind
So you can say she'll always be a little girl
But she moves with her eyes
In cloudy skies she's healing dark
Yeah I know why
Helen saw a million stars tonight
