I'm boarding a train getting off at the last stop now im on the edge of glory hoping for a fast drop her kisses taste like champagne making promises i cant keep singing in the damn rain maybe thats why i cant sleep (i cant sleep)

she called me i hung up no strings but im strung up weekends and weekdays we end but you stay tonight and today my heart splits in two ways you left me standing still i cant speak since you left i cant sleep

her kisses taste like champagne
singing in the damn rain
(i cant sleep)

but when the sun stops shining through we will know what our love can do we will fight to stay strong weâ€™ ll fight to carry on weâ€™ ll be fine
(weâ€™ ll be fine)

singing in the damn rain
(i cant sleep)
