One day I woke up to find there was a hole in my mind I could not be certain or sure of anything I knew before

Get up get out stand up and shout your name
Donâ€™t be afraid to get in the way again
Donâ€™t try to stop like it or not youâ€™ll change
You know you only can go further away

When did we forget what we knew?
When did we grow up and when did we lose everything we were so sure of back then?
How do we know it wonâ€™t happen again?

Somewhere an urgency fell from my side
Some time a border between us arrived that says we are separate and newly defined It tells us to take it seriously this time cos there is no once and for all

Get up get out stand up and shout your name
Donâ€™t be afraid to get in the way again
Donâ€™t try to stop like it or not youâ€™ll change
You know you only can go further away

When did we forget what we knew?
When did we grow up and when did we lose everything we were so sure about then?
How do we know it wonâ€™t happen again?

Now I am sure of my place in the world
I raise up my flag and I watch it unfurl
I know what I want and, I think, what is true
And now I am certain of my love for you

But there is no once and for all
