They say two wrongs are never right, but nothing's final
A thousand thoughts, a million fears and I still smile
When you run too fast to never see the colors of every memory
Slow down the world, live another day

I remember how it used to be
Out there chasing cars and broken dreams
I told myself don't look back this is your life
Someday I'm gona fall in love for the first time
I remember every piece of me
Everything was perfect and complete
So I'm gona take it
One day at a time, one day at a time

Ultraviolet record highs and lows
It's easier to stop and let it go

So, I remember how it used to be
Out there chasing cars and broken dreams
I remember every piece of me
Everything was perfect and complete
So I'm gona take it
One day at a time, one day at a time
