

Colton

"Distance Doesn't Matter"

Visit "Distance Doesn't Matter" on MotoLyrics.com

You were just wasting time away,
We could have shared another day.
We all feel broken sometimes,
You have to believe what you feel inside.
I know I made it complicated,
Watching you leave is what I hated,
I'm calling for a second chance,
I don't want a faded romance.

I offered you my heart,
As I took your hand in mine.
I wanted you to know,
I can be your man tonight.
No matter the distance we drive,
Or the hardships that we find,
You know where my heart is,
In the recess of your mind.

You say that we're growing apart.
I haven't seen you in weeks.
The only image on my mind,
Are tears running down your cheeks.
So I've been writing poems.
Words aren't enough to show,
The beauty that I see in you.
The pages overflow.

I offered you my heart,
As I took your hand in mine.
I wanted you to know,
I can be your man tonight.
No matter the distance we drive,
Or the hardships that we find,
You know where my heart is,
In the recess of your mind.

The distance doesn't matter,
But the hardships can't rewind.
That was the last she said to me,
Before our last goodbye.

