I'm building up walls again,
They will never ever climb,
Mix it all in with sin,
I let you in one time.
Goosebumps cover my skin,
Shivers run down my spine,
Stop before it begins,
A war within our minds.

I'm so sick of playing these head games.
I'll forget your name just go away.
I don't need to hear anything you say,
I know by now it's all head games.

I've got you figured out,
You know exactly what to say.
I won't follow your route,
This is a permanent delay.
Now my head is filled with doubt,
I see your actions on display.
You think I'll help if you cry?
It only pushes me away.

I'm so sick of playing these head games.
I'll forget your name just go away.
I don't need to hear anything you say,
I know by now it's all head games.

I am everything,
You wished you could be,
Don't waste my time,
Pack your bags and leave.

I'm so sick of playing these head games.
I'll forget your name just go away.
I don't need to hear anything you say,
I know by now it's all head games.
