Hope will be found

struggling day after day with my anxiety they have promised to feed you but why are you still sick and malnourished we have heard of the future though i fear that its cries are in vain

Still you kiss the feet that'll crush your dreams to their reality

I know it ain't easy
i know it must be hard

So here i am like a ship without a destination

Every strength of a tree begins in the roots So lets make these screams water their seeds inside of us we bear the greatest weapon therefor we have no reason to be afraid

I wont belong
they try to quench my thirst with concrete
I wont belong
We had no hope, to call our own
We wont fucking belong

what's in it for me cause i can't see no ending we just put another coin in the hate machine

Fight for the air that you breathe Fight for the right to be free

Inside of us we bare the greatest weapon Therefore you have no reason to be afraid

let's take back control Beat them at their own game

Facing turmoil
when the animator trims his sails to every wind

Hope will be found

Hope will be found

as a result of our action

Hope will be found
