how much leeway should I give
- when my heart says no - to answer to a wish that will only grow is your love that lazy is love that lazy lost out over you lost out over you we have other fish to fry our night light's low we rise to our full height still our bed feels cold

think about it I don't know what to think about it think about it just think about it I don't know what to think
